The H. Wales Lines company of Meriden has issued its annual Reminder containing a useful amount of data and information for everyday use combined with a handy pocket memorandum book DAVIS THEATRE.

Big Bill Today of Triangle Pictures and Three Keith Acts — Complete Change of Programme Tomorrow—

There will be a complete change of programme at the Davis tomorrow and the Triangle feature for the last half of the week is William S. Hart in The Disciple, a five part western feature produced by Thomas H. Ince.

The Triangle Keystone comedy on this bill is Saved by Wireless, a two reel Mack Sennett production, featuring Chester Conklin and Mack Swain.

There are wild flights and falls in the reel Mack Sennett production, featuring Chester Conklin and Mack Swain. There are wild flights and falls in the air, a swift auto and motor bicycle race on the land and a rescue from a dynamited yacht in Saved by Wireless. Mack Swain is the chief spy and he has a very effective role as an allround and expert troublemaker. Nick Cogley, as minister of war, loses his code book through the machinations of Swain. Cogley suspects Harry McCoy, the lover of his daughter (Ora Carew). Chester Conklin, Swain's trusty aide, falls in love with the girl. Swain learns of the defection of Conklin and throughout the rest of the play there is a constant struggle between the two. Conklin sends a wireless to the yacht on which Miss Carew and McCoy have eloped and they are able to leave the boat before it is blown up by Swain. There is a great scene at a lighthouse between Swain and Conklin. Conklin grabs a rope hanging down from an aeroplane and Swain gets hold beneath him. Then there is a fight between them and Swain is kicked loose from them and Swain is kicked loose from the rope. He falls on the yacht and is blown up by the dynamite that he had planted for the destruction of his enemies. Corklin rescues the girl who planted for the destruction of his en-emies. Conklin reacues the girl who has been marooned on a rock some distance from shore, but Ora Carew turns to Harry McCoy and ignores her rescuer. He finds comfort in telling his grief to Nick Cogley, the minister of war.

The three vaudeville acts for the last half of this week are Marjorie Fairbanks & Co. in the uproarious funny sketch The Elopement; Black and Milford in the singing and talking novelty Types from Life, and The Two Friends, a unique novelty act introducing a very clever dog. Don't miss the show today; it is one of the best ever seen here. Every one of the acts is good and the Triangle pictures are excellent.

The Scarlet Sin, Five Reels, Presenting Hobart Bosworth and Big Cast.

The Scarlet Sin is a wonderfully powerful soul-stirring drama of a woman sinned and the price she paid for her folly. There are no exaggerated scenes. It's a story of a fight for what's noble and good. Eric Norton was a good and noble man—a man of God. He was a minister way out in a little mining town, so small that one would wonder how it was possible for sin to creep in. Eric was heart-broken

Death of Harry W. Beebs-Four Son Bearers at Funeral of Mrs. John B. Monty-Annual Meeting Corporation of First Church.

Harry W. Beebe, whose death occurred early Tuesday morning at his home on Otrobando avenue, after a week's illness terminating in pneumonia, was born in East Haddam 39 years ago, one of nine sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beebe. Nearly his whole life was spent in East Haddam, where he with his brother Frederick carried on the farm after his father's death, About a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Beebe came to Norwich Town, where Mr. Beebe made many improvements on the place they purchased, saking it one of the pleasantest homes in town. Mr. Beebe was twice married, 11 years ago to Miss Edith Maynard of East Haddam, who died two years after the marriage. Oct. 21, 1914, he married Miss Susie Miner of East Haddam, who survives him, as does his mother. Of the nine brothers, there are six remaining. George S. and S. Albert Beebe of Norwich Town, Charles T. Beebe of Nowleth Town, Charles T. Beebe of Colchester, Robert L. and Frederick S. Beete of East Haddam.

Mr. Beebe was the youngest son, especially home loving, of a quiet nature and possessed those qualities of industry and perseverance which led to success in his work. His loss is deeply felt by friends and the family to whom he gave himself so devotedly and unreservedly. In this community much sympathy has been awakened by the sudden ending of a life so full of promise.

must heed a novel innovation this season. It came with the fall and winter styles, and will not only be pleasing to the eye, but amusing as well.

Versatility has ever been Andrew Mack's middle name, but in all his world-wide tours he has never before attempted to play a character indicative of womankind.

In the new thrilling romantic comedy drama which has been specifically written for Mr. Mack by Theodore Burt Sayre under the title of The Irish Dragoon there is the imperative necessity that the hero, Captain O'Mailey, disguise himself as a woman in ander to ercape the certain clutches of death, and at the same time win an impudent wager.

A woman's wit and a woman's skirts save the day and turn the lowering clouds of tragedy into the sunnlest sunshine and laughing denouement.

The character in The Irish Dragoon in which Andrew Mack will briefly disport himself in feminine garb to win a kiss, a wife, and a hundred pounds, is known as Judy McCann. And a bright and witty colleen is Judy.

When seen at the Davis theatre on Friday evening, Jan. 14th, Mr. Mack will sing three new songs of his own composition during the action of The Irish Dragoon.

Seats go on sale today at 10 a m. Be sure and get your tickets early.

One of the best vaudeville shows that has ever been seen at this house is what the management of the Auditorium promise for today, as well as a corking five part Paramount feature entitled The Fighting Hope, with Laura Hope Crews in the leading role. On the vaudeville programme the feature act will be The Fair Co-eds, a big time musical comedy offering with special scenery, electrical effects, etc. It is a fast, snappy act with six people in the cast who can sing, dance and wear clothes in a very finished manner. Sonia, the girl violinist, is making a very favorable impression with her popular and semi-classic violin selections, and George Stewart is going well with his funny imitations and song numbers. On the picture programme will be another number of the interesting Paramount travel series and Laura Hope Crews, who makes her photodramatic debut in the sixth of the Lasky-Belasco productions, The Fighting Hope, by William H. Hurlbutt.

POETR THE GOOD OLD DAYS,

When Adam sought for leaves to pay a debt he had to settle. Before he found the fig leaf soft he grabbed a little nettle.

Twas tough on Adam, you'll admit. His grief he couldn't slife. His fingers were so hadly stong I think he cussed a trifle.

And Adam's slill alive today whene'er we sup with sorrew.

At seventeen minutes after six this morning, to the minute. A gnat was born, it scented life; was anxious to begin it.

"The good old days! The good old days!" its singing now, dod rot it!

I would that of the good old days wise gnats and men would shout less. For yesterday was like today—and like tomorrow, doubtless.
